A Multitude of Functional Benefits

Phospholipid functionality is documented through years of scientific research.

Phospholipids are key components in liposomal and nano-emulsion delivery systems that have been proven to enhance the bioavailability of vitamins and poorly soluble actives.

The Sunflower series of specialty phospholipids is ideal for inclusion in nutritional supplements targeted for anti-aging, liver protection and cardiovascular support.

A trusted supplier for more than 85 years.

Committed to outstanding quality, consistency and technical support.
